

THE SOCIETY OF SAINT FRANCIS

The Constitution

Preamble

- 1:1 The Society of Saint Francis came into being in 1937 at Cerne Abbas, Dorset, England, from the amalgamation of The Brotherhood of Saint Francis of Assisi with The Brotherhood of the Love of Christ, to form The First Order of the Society of Saint Francis.
- 1:2 In 1967, this First Order united with the corresponding community in the Episcopal Church in the United States of America, The Order of Saint Francis, which had been founded in 1919 (under the name of The Order of the Poor Brethren of Saint Francis of the American Congregation of Saint Francis).
- 1:3 Since 1964, the sisters of The Community of Saint Francis, founded in 1905, have formed a constituent part of the Society and, in 1973, were recognised as The Sisters of the First Order of the Society of Saint Francis.
- 1:4 The Second Order of the Society has been comprised of two sisterhoods: since its foundation in 1947 in England, the enclosed Community of Saint Clare and from 1969 until its demise in 2000 a corresponding community in the United States of America, the Order of Poor Clares of Reparation, founded in 1922. From 1996 until it disbanded in 1999 the Clare Community in Australia was recognised as a community of the Second Order in formation.
- 1:5 The Third Order, for men and women in secular life, came into being when the first Franciscan communities were founded in the different parts of the Anglican Communion. The Third Order of the Society of Saint Francis has been in existence since the Society's own inception.
